QUANTIFIERS

Explanation

- We use quantifiers when we want to give someone information about the number of something: how much or how many. Sometimes we use a quantifier in the place of a determiner: Most children start school at the age of five. We ate some bread and butter. We saw lots of birds.
- We can use these quantifiers with both count and uncount nouns: all, no, some, any, more, most, a lot of, lots of, enough, less

We have lots of time.

Joe has lots of friends.

I can't go out. I've got no money.

There was a lot of food but no drinks.

- These more colloquial forms are also used with both count and uncount nouns: plenty of, heaps of, a load of, loads of, tons of

We have loads of time.

Joe has plenty of friends.

There was heaps of food.

Some and any

- We do not normally use the quantifier some in negative and interrogative sentences. We normally use any: Do you have any children? Did you see any friends? We don't have any children. I didn't see any friends. We saw some lions at the zoo, but we didn't see any tigers.
- but we can use some in offers and requests: Would you like some tea? I want some apples, please.
- Some quantifiers can be used only with count nouns: (not) many, several, each, both, either, neither, (a) few, fewer
- These more colloquial forms are used only with count nouns: a couple of, hundreds of, thousands of

I'll be back in a couple of minutes.

There were hundreds of people at the meeting.

- Some quantifiers can be used only with uncount nouns: (not) much, a bit of, a little

Would you like a little wine?

Could I have a bit of butter, please?

- These quantifiers are used particularly with abstract nouns such as time, money and trouble: a great deal of, a good deal of

It will probably cost a great deal of money.

He spent a good deal of time watching television.

Members of groups

- We put a noun directly after a quantifier when we are talking about members of a group in general: Few snakes are dangerous. Most children like chocolate. I never have enough money.
- but if we are talking about members of a specific group, we use of the as well:

Few of the snakes in this zoo are dangerous. Most of the boys at my school play football. He's spent all (of) the money that we gave him. Both (of) the chairs in my office are broken.

- Note: with all and both, we don't need to use of. We can say all the ... and both the ....

both, either and neither

- If we are talking about two people or things, we use the quantifiers both, either and neither:

One supermarket	Two supermarkets	More than two supermarkets
The supermarket was closed.	Both the supermarkets were closed.	All the supermarkets were closed.
The supermarket wasn't open.	Neither of the supermarkets was open.	None of the supermarkets were open.
I don't think the supermarket was open.	I don't think either of the supermarkets was open.	I don't think any of the supermarkets were open.

- Note that nouns with both have a plural verb but nouns with either and neither have a singular verb.

every and each

- We use the quantifiers every and each with singular nouns to mean all: There was a party in every street. (= There were parties in all the streets.)
Every shop was decorated with flowers.* (= All the shops were decorated with flowers.)
Each child was given a prize.* (= All the children were given a prize.)
There was a prize in each competition. (= There were prizes in all the competitions.)
- We often use every to talk about times like days, weeks and years:

When we were children, we had holidays at our grandmother's every year.
When we stayed at my grandmother's house, we went to the beach every day.
We visit our daughter every Christmas.

- We do not use a determiner with every and each:

Every shop was decorated with flowers. (NOT ~~The every shop~~)
Each child was given a prize. (NOT ~~The each child~~)
